Notes:-

End of Georgian terrace with former Assembly Rooms adjoining to right.

Early 20th century. Edwardian classicism, influence of Aston Webb.

Tall, symmetrical three storey and basement, five bay façade. Red brick facings, bath stone dressings, Portland stone to ground floor.

Bracket cornice and solid parapet, cornices to end stacks. Rusticated end pilasters with swagged tablets. Lugged second floor windows, with husk drops, linked by aprons to open segmental pediments on brackets over keystone architraves of first floor windows; wide centre surround with volute supports. Sashes with small pane glazing.

Aprons to deep frieze over ground floor cornice breaking forward at centre doorpiece. Doric porch with triglyph frieze incorporating name tablet, arched entrance with volute keyblock, traceried fanlight and double three panel doors. Cavetto splays to arched and keyblocked side windows.

Good original area railings with gate to rusticated basement.

Hipped roof to partly white tiled and rendered rear range running back to classical frontage on Pier Street. Three storey five window brick elevation with freestone cornice, parapet and window surrounds with aprons. Arched central door way with curved hood on brackets etc.

Group value.
